INTRODUCTION:

The Indian Speech-Language and Hearing Association is the professional association of Speech-Language Pathologists and Audiologists working in India.

VISION STATEMENT:

ISHA envisages professional excellence in speech language and hearing services, safeguarding professional ethics and the interests of professionals and people with speech, language, swallowing, hearing, and balance disorders.

MISSION STATEMENT:

ISHA promotes excellence in Speech Language and Hearing profession and rehabilitation services through advocacy, leadership, unique and continued education, both for public and professional awareness, ethical considerations and outcome monitoring and professional networking and support to research.

ISHA is striving hard to frame professional standards in delivering clinical services to persons with communication disorders. This document is intended to assess the clinics both in terms of quantitative and qualitative metrics. ISHA will facilitate the volunteering clinical facilities to assess their performance vis-a-vis set parameters through introspection and an objective and subjective process reviewed by professional peers.

BENEFITS OF ACCREDITATION OF CLINICS:

1. Visibility of quality clinical services to persons with communication disorders
2. Clinics will know its strengths, weaknesses, and opportunities through an informed review process
3. Authentication of clinical services by a third party
4. Persons with communication disorders look for reliable information on the quality of services. ISHA-accredited clinics will be notified on its website. Similarly, the clinics can notify ISHA accreditation on its website, sign boards, publicity avenues and platforms.
5. Identification of internal areas of planning and resource allocation, expand the clinical services
6. Better referral services

7. In the near future may pave way to cover services under insurance
8. Clinics can evolve and advocate best practices, initiate innovative and modern methods of clinical delivery, etc
9. Peer validation and accreditation by National Professional Association will pave the way for newer directions and identity for clinics
10. Employees look for reliable information on the quality of services, managerial policies, and employee benefits offered to prospective recruits by companies or clinics
11. Intra and inter-clinical interactions, company and industry recognition.
12. Priority in future engagements in clinical programs (such as -The voice program) will be given to accredited clinics.
13. Referrals for joint clinical and research programs.
14. Opportunity for engagement in ISHA-organised webinars/ workshops/seminars/RCI-CRE programs.
15. Certified clinic details will be placed before the AGB of ISHA.
16. Certified Clinics will be featured in that year's edition of PATHFINDER.
